Atacama Signature

Three days of exploration, featuring San Bartolo, Laguna Lejía, and the Saturno-Tara area. This selection of extensive routes through high-altitude landscapes is designed for those who wish to dedicate time to observation and photography.

Your journey, step by step

Day 1 · San Bartolo

The route takes you by vehicle across the Llano de la Paciencia and past the Piedra de la Coca formation toward San Bartolo. Stops along the way combine geology, historical remnants, and short walks; access to these private areas requires prior coordination. This is distinct from the trekking route from Catarpe to San Bartolo.

Day 2 · Laguna Lejía

A day spent exploring the area around Talabre and the volcanic landscape of Lejía, including planned walks and excursions. Lunch is provided en route. Does not include the ascent of the Láscar volcano.

Day 3 · Saturno · Tara

We explore the corridors of volcanoes and the high plateau, heading toward authorized sectors in the Tara area. The specific route depends on current access permissions; entry to every sector mentioned in the historical reference program cannot be guaranteed.

One Night · Skapada Cosmic

The two-hour private session at Solor combines naked-eye stargazing with the use of 16-inch and 20-inch Dobsonian telescopes, and includes a break for drinks and appetizers. The date for the evening is arranged based on sky conditions.
