PRIVATE EXPERIENCE / ENGLISH

Santiago to Atacama

A multi-stage journey from Santiago toward the Atacama, encompassing valleys, the coast, and the desert. The standard itinerary spans approximately ten days; the route can be adapted-though it is not designed as a short getaway, given the significant distances involved.

Your itinerary

First segment · La Serena and Elqui

The journey proceeds toward La Serena and the Elqui Valley. Options such as hiking, cycling, or stargazing are available for selection, with specific services and overnight stays outlined.

Second segment · Coast and mountains

This portion covers the area around Punta de Choros and includes a leg toward Nevado Tres Cruces. Maritime or mountain activities are subject to specific conditions and must be booked separately; boat departures and wildlife sightings are not guaranteed.

Third segment · Bahía Inglesa and Pan de Azúcar

The coastal stages include walks and time to take in the scenery. The itinerary covers meals and accommodations, though it does not imply unrestricted access to every area.

Final segment · Antofagasta and San Pedro

We continue toward Antofagasta and conclude in San Pedro de Atacama. Specific visits and travel times are detailed in a daily itinerary, which also specifies the exact location where the service ends.

DURATION

Standard duration: approximately 10 days

DISTANCE / ROUTE

Multi-stage journey by vehicle

EFFORT

Physical exertion level varies by activity

MEALS

Meals, accommodations, and activities are detailed on a day-by-day basis.

TRANSPORT

Journey starting from Santiago; concludes in San Pedro, depending on the booked program.

PREPARATION

The final itinerary specifies the distance (in kilometers) and travel time for each stage; optional activities are not automatically included.