PRIVATE EXPERIENCE / ENGLISH

Valle De Marte

Dunes and ridges of the Salt Mountain Range (Cordillera de la Sal) define this visit to Mars Valley. The program focuses on the landscape and the planned walks; sandboarding is considered a separate activity.

Your itinerary

Approach.

The vehicle transports us to the designated area. The guide will explain the landscape and the safety guidelines for walking on sand and near edges.

Dunes and corridors.

We follow the chosen route, observing wind-sculpted landforms and the contrast between sand and rock. The intensity of the climbs is adjusted based on the group and the heat; walking on sand requires extra physical effort.

Viewpoints.

Breaks offer the chance to take in different perspectives of the valley and the surrounding mountains. For safety, we strictly observe boundaries and do not approach unstable ledges for the sake of a photograph.

We return to the pickup point for the trip back to San Pedro. This does not include the official "Valle de la Luna" (Valley of the Moon) circuit or sandboarding equipment, unless specifically requested and arranged.
