PRIVATE EXPERIENCE / ENGLISH

Saturno-Tara

This experience expands the exploration of the high plateau (altiplano) toward Pujsa and the Tara region. The excursion combines 4x4 travel, lagoon observation, and short walks; the specific areas accessible for visitation depend on current permits.

Your itinerary

Volcanic Excursion and Approach

The route winds through the landscapes of Toco, Cerro Negro, and the area surrounding the Pili volcano. The guide and driver select authorized tracks and observation points, with stops to interpret the geological landforms.

Quepiaco and Lagoons

We explore the Quepiaco area and its associated wetlands. Stops allow for observing birds and other wildlife from a distance, while highlighting the contrast between the water, high-altitude grasses, and mineral-rich terrain.

Pujsa and the Tara Territory

The itinerary heads toward Pujsa and the sections of Tara covered by our access permit. Please note that a view of the territory does not imply guaranteed access to every part of the salt flat, and the specific route may vary from day to day.

Walks, Meals, and Return

The excursion includes short walks, time for photography, and lunch. The return journey is planned with extra time to account for high-altitude driving conditions and the state of the tracks.
