Uyuni · Five Days

An extensive journey through Bolivia, featuring the salt flats, local villages, unique rock formations, and lagoons, before returning to San Pedro. This classic route consists of five stages; specific sites visited are subject to access and local conditions.

Your itinerary

Day 1 · Toward the salt flat

The standard route connects San Pedro, Ollagüe, and the San Juan area with the surroundings of Uyuni and Coqueza. The specific route and checkpoints are confirmed prior to booking; accommodation is provided at the end of the day's journey.

Day 2 · Salt flat landscapes

The program includes visits to Tunupa, Incahuasi, and other points on the salt flat, subject to accessibility. The day concludes at the pre-arranged accommodation in the vicinity of Colcha K.

Day 3 · Desert and rock formations

The traditional itinerary includes sites such as Julaca, Anaconda, Laguna Negra, and Italia Perdida, leading toward Villa Mar. Specific stops are selected based on feasibility; inclusion of any particular site is not guaranteed.

Day 4 · High-altitude lagoons

The journey continues through corridors of lagoons and desert toward the Laguna Colorada area, where accommodation is reserved. Excursions and meals are scheduled according to the confirmed route.

Day 5 · Return to Chile

The return route includes Sol de Mañana, Polques, the Dalí Desert, and the Blanca and Verde lagoons, subject to permits and current conditions. We pass through the border checkpoints and conclude the trip in San Pedro.
